Engineer and MBA who turns commercial data into shipped decisions. Built AI Brain at LumApps, an intelligent context layer unifying conversation data, usage analytics, and notes that drives strategy across product, sales, and CS. At Beekeeper co-owned GTM launches across multiple segments and products with instrumentation that proved (or killed) the bet within a week. Founder of three companies including PulseView, a consumption-based AI market intelligence platform. Comfortable in Python and SQL, fluent across LLM systems, and energized by ambiguous environments where the measurement framework does not yet exist.
